DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1, 4, and 5 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Woldenberg et al. (U.S. Patent 5,308,558). Regarding Claim 1, Woldenberg et al., hereafter “Woldenberg,” show that it is known to carry out a process for making a shaped product from thermoplastic polycarbonate comprising producing polycarbonate melt by phase interface or melt transesterification and introducing the melt directly into an injection molding machine to form said shaped product, said process characterized in the absence thereof of polycarbonate in granular form (Column 3, lines 64-68; Column 4, lines 27-39).

Regarding Claim 4, Woldenberg shows the process as claimed as discussed in the rejection of Claim 1 above, including a shaped product made by the process of Claim 1 (Column 6, lines 28-33).

Regarding Claim 5, Woldenberg shows that it is known to carry out a process of forming a shaped product of a thermoplastic aromatic polycarbonate from melt obtained by phase interface or melt transesterification, the improvement comprising avoiding granulating the polycarbonate before introducing the melt directly into an injection molding machine to form said shaped product (Column 3, lines 64-68; Column 4, lines 27-39).

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claim 2 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Woldenberg, in view of Regel et al. (U.S. Patent 6,265,533). Woldenberg shows the process as claimed as discussed in the rejection of Claim 1 above, but he does not show a degassing process. Regel et al., hereafter "Regel," show that it is known to carry out a method for making a shaped product characterized in that the polycarbonate melt is degassed (Column 18, lines 36-38). Regel and Woldenberg are combinable because they are concerned with a similar technical field, namely, polycarbonate molding processes. It would have been prima facie obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to use Regel's degassing method during Woldenberg's molding process to prevent the presence of air bubbles in the final melt product.
